A small army of musical artists converged on Miami Beach to join the celebrity and collector crowd at Art Basel during the first week of December. Unfortunately, the annual art fair's concentration of deep-pocketed VIPs also attracted a criminal element to the pop-up events, nightclubs and exhibits. In addition to a stabbing that took place at the Miami Beach Convention Center on Dec. 4 -- which was mistaken by some visitors as performance art -- pickpockets infiltrated private events and took advantage of the crowds to steal cell phones and other valuables. The incidents did not dampen the spirits of the celebrity crowd, however. Here are the highlights:

Kylie Jenner Goes "Barefoot" With A$AP Rocky

Reality star Kylie Jenner generated fresh speculation that her on-and-off relationship with rapper Tyga is more off than on these days when she hung out at A\$AP Rocky's table at the "Barefoot" dinner that the "Everyday" rapper and GQ Style Guy Mark Anthony Green hosted at the Dream Hotel on Dec. 4. Jenner, who was spotted with Rocky during her short break-up with Tyga in November, joined the rapper's entourage of 35 people when they left the event, drinks in hand, en masse and piled into a private bus.

Lenny Kravitz Photographs the Photographers

Art Basel kicked off on Dec. 1 with a series of parties, including one thrown by DuJour magazine at the Delano Hotel in South Beach where Lionel Richie and Lenny Kravitz joined actors Hilary Swank and Sylvester Stallone. Kravitz was in town for business as well as pleasure. His photography exhibit Flash -- of photos he'd taken of paparazzi and fans photographing him -- opened at a gallery in the Miami Design District.

Julian Lennon (Almost) Sells Out

Singer-turned-photographer Julian Lennon, the eldest son of the late John Lennon, also mounted a show of photos called "Horizon" at Scope gallery he took during trips to Ethiopia and Kenya. At fashion designer Jeremy Scott's Art Basel party at The Surf Lodge Pop Up on Dec. 1, Lennon, who attended with his wife China Chow, told Overheard that the exhibit had almost sold out.

Miami's Too Hot for Paris Hilton

Socialite-DJ Paris Hilton, who spun at the Wall nightclub on Dec. 4, also mingled with the sweaty Miami crowd at Jeremy Scott's party, but she was thinking of a cooler climate. "It's so hot here," Hilton grouched to Overheard, adding, "I am not used to this weather anymore because I've been living in the Alps" with Swiss businessman Thomas Gross. (They reportedly met at the Cannes Film Festival.)

Maroon 5's Mickey Madden Seals It With A Kiss

Maroon 5 bass player Mickey Madden traded in his axe for a microphone when he fronted his band Collapsing Scenery at the Montauk Surf Lodge Pop-Up at the Hall Hotel on Dec. 4. He finished his four-song set by planting a big kiss on a beautiful blond woman in the audience
